

LICENSES FOR PROTECTION OF PUBLIC

Real estate men in California will operate under a State Realty License and Certificates of Registration, issued by the Secretary of State, if the bill introduced in both houses of the legislature Wednesday, becomes a law. The measure is one formulated by the California State Realty Federation as a means of giving greater protection to the investor in all real estate transactions, and for placing the real estate profession on the same high and dignified plane as that occupied by the lawyer, banker, physician and others to whom the public look.

Almost every business or profession is licensed," says Geo. N. Black, of Los Angeles, President of the California State Realty Federation, speaking of the measure, "the doctor, minister, even the hack driver, and chauffeur have licenses, but anybody can dabble in real estate under the present system. The so-called curbstone operators pay no office rent, do not advertise, and they do nothing to support the community, and they prey on the legitimate men in the business. There is no recourse should they 'put over' a shady transaction. Usually this sort of man is judgment proof, and a civil action is useless. As legitimate real estate agents, we want to give more protection to the investing public, and protect our profession from the odium these unprincipled men bring upon it."

The State Realty License Law has been carefully prepared by the Legislative Committee of the State Realty Federation, and has been endorsed by practically every real estate board and exchange in California. The established and organized agents are in favor of such protection and hope to see the bill become a law.

"An unique feature of the measure," says James G. Stafford, of Los Angeles, Executive Secretary of the Federation, "is that ninety per cent of the moneys received as registration fees, and renewal fees, will be set aside as a State Advertising Fund, for use in advertising California and its resources. The state never has had a fund, and the real estate men, through the California State Realty Federation are thus voluntarily assessing themselves to provide such a fund. Then expenditure of the fund will be under the direction of a Special Advertising Commission, composed of four representative licensed real estate men, with the Governor of California as an ex-officio member."

Real estate men are to be legally described by law, and made responsible for their own acts, statements, and representations, when presenting property to investors. Each will be required to have a specified business address, designated by a real estate sign. Any one performing an act commonly known as a real estate transaction as an agent or broker for a commission or compensation, comes within the provisions of the law. It does not affect owners selling their own property.

FIRST PORT OF CALL

How San Diego's "Back Country" Will Look By Exposition Year

"First Port of Call" is the suggestive title of an article in Sunset Magazine for February, written by Miss A. C. Laut and accompanied by illustrations in the natural colors of California, answering very effectively the question "Why is San Diego?"

The story of a city that has grown in spite of adversity, on its merits alone, with organized and strong opposition from many sources, is always interesting, but as all the Southwest has an interest in San Diego, and some of us have known her battles won, article by Miss Laut, filled from beginning to end with sparkle and vim, brings forth several new ideas that perhaps we are not familiar with but should be. Among other things, it is pointed out that this first port of call for Panama ships has attracted so much attention that more than one trans-continental line is looking toward it as a Pacific Coast terminal. Business, commercial enterprises of many kinds, public utilities, the social side, how San Diego's municipality and her backing who had faith have made good, and the "back country" reaching clear over through Arizona and New Mexico and even into Mexico on the south, are given their just relation to San Diego—present, with just a touch on San Diego—future.

The Pulse of the West, being editorial comment on western affairs from the master hand of Walter V. Woelke, looks at the situations with which we are grappling "at a different angle" under such headings as "Kicking against Conservation," "Scratching our Educational Itch," "Bankers and Hogs," etc.

PUSH Y.M.C.A. WORK

COUNTY ORGANIZATION WILL OPEN ITS HEADQUARTERS IN MONROVIA AT ONCE

At a meeting of the Committee of the County Y. M. C. A. held at the American National Bank, Monrovia, on the evening of January 28th, the matter of the effect of the recent freeze upon the County Y. M. C. A. work was considered and discussed in detail. The committee fully appreciated what the damage means to the citrus growers of Southern California, many of whom pledged liberally to this work.

The expression was freely given by the various members of the committee, as representing the constituency of the various localities from which they came, that even in the face of so severe a set-back, the work should be pushed forward for the boys of Los Angeles County and the movement so splendidly begun, be given the full support of all those interested in the future citizenship of the state.

The County Committee, fully realizing just what this freeze means to those so vitally affected, carefully went over the original budget of $7,000.00 and trimmed it in every possible way to a minimum of $4,500.00, which they believe will be an adequate amount by very close economy, to carry forward the work for the coming year. Many of the ranchers, while indicating that they might need a little longer time to pay their subscriptions, felt that the work should not be abandoned because of the frost conditions, and the County Committee feels that with this heroic and very commendable attitude on the part of the subscribers to the work, every effort will be put forth to make the last dollar count for one hundred cents in saving the boys to the best possible lives of Christian usefulness.

C. A. Gummere, County Secretary-elect, will begin his active work February 1st, with Monrovia as his headquarters. Mr. Gummere was formerly Membership and Social Secretary of the San Francisco Association, and prior to that time Assistant State Secretary of the State of Washington, and comes highly recommended for this important office.

CONGREGATIONAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

In the midst of a Christian civilization, when Christian morality has come to be recognized as the proper thing for all respectable people, it almost seems as if the question, "What is it to be a Christian?" might be considered superfluous.

It is a fact, however, that the question is a very vital and timely one today.

In the series of sermons, which will be begun in the Congregational Church next Sunday morning, an attempt will be made to answer that question, by the application of the teachings of New Testament characters to present day conditions.

In this, the first sermon of the series, a study will be made of John the Baptist's conception of the subject.

In the evening the pastor will speak on, "Choosing a Life Course." "Christian Endeavor Principles, and How to Uphold Them," is the topic for the C. E. meeting on Sunday evening.

At the midweek meeting, on Wednesday evening, the theme will be "How We Can Prepare the Way of the Lord."

EXPECTING FINE ROSE EXHIBIT

Of interest in connection with flower show plans is the encouraging statement made this week by W. W. Felgate regarding the effect of the cold weather. He says the roses should be unusually fine this year on account of the enforced rest the bushes have had. He advises that all rose bushes be cut back and heavily fertilized at once. Many bulb plants if put in the ground now should bloom at Flower Show time and almost all "garden flowers" if obtained as little plants at the nurseries should be at their best late in April. The personnel of the executive committee of the flower show organization has not yet been decided upon, but interest in the show on the part of prospective exhibitors should crystallize at once into active preparations.

MORE STREET CHAIRMEN

Several names have been added to the list of those who will canvass the various streets to learn the consensus of opinion of property owners regarding their choice of trees. The following assignments have been added to the list published last week: For Carter avenue, Mr. Arthur Carter; for Auburn avenue and Olive street, Mrs. Rost; for Adams street, Mrs. Howard Hill; for Mariposa avenue, Mrs. Steinberger and Dr. Betts.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES

Church of the Ascension, the Rev. Dr. George H. Cornell, Rector. The Feast of Purification. Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; sermon and holy communion, 11 a. m. Ash Wednesday, penitential service, sermon and Holy Communion, 10 a. m. Evening service, 7:30. Preacher, the Very Rev. Dean MacCormack, D. D. Litany and address, Friday at 4:30 p. m. All are cordially invited.

BAND MEN WANTED

TALENT IS WANTED TO FORM NEW MUSICAL ORGANIZATION HERE

Experienced band musicians, inexperienced persons with instruments and those with an ambition for band work are invited to attend a meeting to discuss organizing next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the News office.

The need of a band in Sierra Madre has long been felt and often expressed. Occasions when band music is desirable are numerous. In the past it has been necessary to go to large expense and no little trouble to secure band music. Most often the music was omitted. Several experienced band musicians have expressed a willingness to take part in the organization of a band for the sake of supplying the need and for the enjoyment they would get out of the work. Several others are ambitious to begin band work. As a result a call was issued for a meeting at the home of Rudolph Hartman last Tuesday evening to discuss plans for organizing. To facilitate matters a temporary organization was formed with J. Anderson as chairman and Rudolph Hartman as secretary. A canvass of the talent known to those present showed about eighteen players on various instruments in Sierra Madre, many of them with actual experience, and most of whom it was thought could be secured for the organization.

After considerable discussion it was decided to hold another meeting for which a general call should be issued in the hope that some unknown talent might be uncovered. Accordingly the meeting was arranged as announced above and it is hoped that enough musicians will be secured to make it possible to begin active work at once.

A COMMUNICATION

Editor Sierra Madre "News":

I note in the last issue of the "News" that a campaign has been started to secure the planting of trees along the streets of Sierra Madre. That the writer is in sympathy with the movement may be inferred from the fact that he has had resolutions similar to the one referred to in the "News" passed twice by the Board of Trade, and once by the Woman's Club, and has appeared twice before the Board of Trustees to urge the adoption of a plan somewhat similar to the one proposed. I say "somewhat similar" for the reason that there are defects in the plan outlined that may to a great extent defeat its object.

(1) It is proposed that property owners get together on some scheme of planning and undertake it on their own initiative.

(2) A canvassing committee has been appointed to ascertain the preferences of the property owners.

There can be no harmony when owners on street are to select shade trees without reference to the trees upon the next street. But this objection sinks into insignificance beside the objection to the second plan of action—the immediate ascertainment of the preferences of the property owners. Wm. S. Lyons, one of California's best gardeners says: "For urban uses in California, the standards of excellence are well defined and should be adhered to or carried out by municipal enactment, and no sentiment, fad or fancy for a particular tree should be tolerated as a factor in matters that concern the general public so much more than the individual lot owners."

What do the property owners know about the standards of excellence, or the six points that make up an ideal sidewalk tree? It is the experience of the writer that no one man in a hundred has ever given ten minutes time to the study of the subject. Yet no one will deny that the selection of a tree unsuited to sidewalk purposes or unsuited to the climate and soil of Sierra Madre, may handicap us for years in our efforts to beautify the streets of our city.

There is only one way to handle the tree planting campaign, and that is to handle it right. Let the City Trustees appoint a commission vested with the powers contemplated by the "Shade Tree Act." Let that commission spend a month, or two months, in studying the subject, and then spend another month or two in educating the property owners. In order that the commission's decision may not meet with opposition.

If our street planting is to be dictated by the fancies and sentiments of individual owners, it would be better to let the streets remain bare until we all know something about trees.

F. D. R. MOOTE.

[With all due respect to the shade tree authorities and making due allowance for the dense ignorance attributed by Mr. Moote to the average property owner, the plan now being tried seems to have the advantage of getting action, judging by reports from the committee members. That is something which Mr. Moote confesses failing to secure in spite of his resolutions. The present activity is probably regarded as purely preliminary and will probably work out at the end in a manner as satisfactory as any and certainly better than leaving the streets unplanted.—Ed.]

SIXTH BUSINESS ANNIVERSARY

A. S. Mead Celebrates by Announcing Changes in His Office

A. S. Mead celebrates today the sixth anniversary of his entry into business in Sierra Madre. That he has good reason to celebrate is evident to those who have been here during all that period and have seen the growth of his business.

By way of celebrating his anniversary Mr. Mead announces a change in the firm by the addition of Mr. Wilbur Gilliland who has been his assistant for some time. The firm name will be the Mead-Gilliland Realty Company. As soon as the room is ready for occupancy the firm will occupy new quarters in the brick building now being erected adjoining the drug store. Plenty of room will be afforded there for the installation of a modernly equipped real estate office. Miss Ethel Hunter has been added to the office force as stenographer.

Upon coming to Sierra Madre Mr. Mead entered the transfer, feed and fuel business. During part of the first year he had as a partner Mr. J. B. Gill who removed to the San Fernando Valley a little later. Some real estate business was transacted as a side line. After about a year and a half Mr. Mead decided to devote all his attention to real estate, insurance and loans and disposed of his other business interests. In looking over his records Mr. Mead finds his realty transfers since that time have amounted to more than $250,000. He has spent more than $20,000 in building operations, mostly in bungalows costing from $1,200 to $2,500 and entirely apart from what has been spent by others in building on lots sold by him. He has put about 350 insurance policies in force and has taken about 1,600 notarial acknowledgements.

For the month of January Mr. Mead reports the following sales:

House and lot at 179 E. Montecito to F. A. Pagel. East half of lot 21. A. Hawks addition, to Harold Costello. East half of lot 8, Park Manor, to Misses Ethel Harris and Anna Weld. Lots 23 and 24, Camillo Guericio tract No. 2, to David W. Edwards.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST

Time for the payment of city taxes without the delinquent penalty expired on Monday. About $1,100 is reported as remaining unpaid by Deputy Collector Wolff. That is about $200 more than was shown on the published delinquent list last year, but in view of the fact that the levy was about 60 per cent higher this year the increase is not surprising, even indicating a smaller number of parcels of land involved. The $1,100 will undoubtedly be cut down somewhat before the date of publishing the list, as there are usually a number of payments as soon as the delinquent notices are sent out.

SIERRA MADRE

By CLARKE B. WHITTIER

Above, the mountains rise to meet the dawn

That over eastern peaks comes shimmering.

Below, the valley lies spread like a lawn.

With sheltering roofs through greenery glimmering.

The eye, imagining, can reach the sea.

That glitters in the sun, 'yond southern hills.

The ear the city recollects and, free

From that dread din, to nature's soft tones thrills.

Beneath the frosts that visit neighboring heights.

Yet high above the reach of ocean's damps,

By day the true bride of the King of lights.

At night soft-lit by heaven's countless lamps.

Sierra Madre, wondrous is thy spell,

Yet patent are thy charms; there is no mystery.

We hail thee Queen, and, Sovereign, love thee well.

Thy name renowned shall be in southland history.

Arise with me! the dawn is here.

Or is it heaven not earth we see?

This air ethereal rarer seems

Than those terrestrial. Can it be

This light that glows so faint yet pure

Is but God's city seen afar?

No, Gabriel's vale, Puente's hills

Are here, and there the morning star.

Now grows the light; the stars take flight

And clouds appear in Quaker gray.

Then worldly grown, they gray disown

And, glorious red, hail coming day.

The mountains blush, the east is gold.

The sky is turquoise burning free.

Behold the monarch of the world.

The sun, in matchless majesty.

And when at noon the southern sun

Shines from a bright and cloudless sky.

The breath of Neptune not yet come.

Nothing astir save buzzing fly.

Remember that the best gives life

To Nature's countless brood, and we.

As heirs to riches past compare.

Should sing her praise right gratefully.

EXCITEMENT
AS BALLOON
GOES ASTRAY

The most exciting runaway Sierra Madre has had for many moons occurred Monday afternoon when a stray balloon went soaring over Sierra Madre. It was the Times balloon, used in taking pictures of the foothill region. It escaped near Monrovia while the men in charge were attempting to maneuver the ropes with which it was tethered to an auto past some telephone wires. Pilot Tom McLain was in the balloon rigging when it escaped and he had an exciting ride as it drifted over Sierra Madre and toward the mountains. The wind took it into the Bailey canyon and McLain managed to let enough gas out of the bag to make it descend over the trail, so that he could alight without much difficulty.

Freed of McLain's weight the gas bag shot upward and soared over the mountain. It has been reported as having been found on the north side of the range.

All day Saturday and Sunday the balloon was an object of great interest on the part of old and young. It was anchored at various positions along Live Oak avenue while pictures were taken of Sierra Madre and the mountains.

MOTION PICTURE PLAYS

The committee wishes to announce that afternoon and evening performances will be given each Thursday until further notice. The programs on Thursdays will consist of a two or three-reel play and one or two reels of comedy. On Thursday, February 6, the play will be "Cinderella." Piano music will be furnished by Miss Hawthorn.

Miss Isabel Langton will sing a number of selections tomorrow evening during the program.

On Saturdays picture plays will be given in the evening only. On February 8th piano music will be furnished by Miss Hill.

The Motion Picture Story magazine is on sale at the door. Persons wishing to vote for preferred films should select those manufactured by the following firms: Lubin, Selig, Pathe, Vitagraph, Melies, Kalem, Essanay, Cines or C. G. P. C. The name of the manufacturer will be found at the head of the story. One vote may be cast each time one attends.

"Infinite Patience" is the subject of the discourse to be given on Sunday, February 2, at three-thirty at the Home of Truth, 493 Auburn avenue. Harriet C. Hamor conducting the services. Everyone is cordially invited to be present. Sunday school at two o'clock.

How good the orange finds the warmth
To help it gather all its gold!
Or, if it's summer, peaches learn
To blush at arid never cold.
And berries reach their royal red,
And radiant roses scent the air
And pansies, lilies, violets bloom
Because the southern sun is there.

The cool, refreshing evening hours
Steal softly o'er the fragrant land.
The sun seeks slumber in the west
Where calm Pacific laves the sand.
The noisy car brings back its load
Of those who brave the feverish
We leave our tasks and hasten home
To fireside joys, days' fitting crown.

And when the evening meal is o'er,
Fair twilight draws us to her heart.
Her loveliness, her golden robes,
Her quiet calm, surpass all art.
If there is here foretaste of heaven,
It is the evening's hour of peace.
When lengthening shadows bid us rest
And strife for wealth and power may cease.

The myriad moods of thy e'er verdant slopes
Outrun our song, Sierra Madre fair.
The sun-lit shower, the hope-bow 'mid the clouds,
The dark gray days of rain with moments rare.

The shadows sent to lovers by the moon,
The secrets told the breezes by the pines,
The chorus of a thousand feathered throats,
Of these let some new Wordsworth pen the lines.

For us who dwell beneath thy sunny skies,
It is enough that here our days are sweet.
We do not ask great riches from thy land;
A well-earned competence our needs will meet.

But grant that ever when we think of home
A little hillside city we shall see,
The valley's Queen, serene upon her throne,
Warm in her loves, and with her welcome free.

 served.

 Mrs. T. M. Webster of Bonita avenue

Don't put your money into a hole in the ground —GET THE GROUND!

If the ground is not improved, build on it. Turn it into income property.

Haven't money enough, did you say? Let's see—if you have $10 or more you can buy an interest in the most valuable business property in Sierra Madre. It is already producing an income and can be made to produce more.

You are wondering how to get such an interest? The Sierra Madre Building and Investment Corporation owns 621 feet of business frontage, about half of it improved and occupied by desirable tenants. A limited amount of the Corporation stock is for sale at par, $10 a share. Every share of stock you buy gives you an interest in this property. Moreover the Corporation can put your money to work in improving its vacant property so as to increase the income now realized and boost the value of the whole.

Why draw nothing on your money, or even 4%, when you can get a guarantee of 7%? All stock sold receives this guarantee, with the prospect that even a higher dividend rate will be paid.

Isn't this better than risking your money on a mine or an oil well you have never seen and which may never pay out? Remember, you can see this property for yourself and investigate the whole proposition right on the ground.

Let us explain the plan to you in person. The fullest investigation is invited. All inquiries should be made of

WHERE SINGLE TAX PAYSCanadians Are Surprised at Opposition to Their Successful Plan

The question of tax reform has provoked considerable discussion pro and con within the last few months but the arguments have been largely theories of what might happen under a certain system of taxation. The following interview is quite timely on the tax system of Canada.

"That the single tax has been an unqualified success wherever it has been tried in the cities of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, Canada, is the news brought by prominent members of the touring party of 220 residents of that region who arrived in San Francisco Friday on their way to Los Angeles.

"The provincial government of Alberta has made the single tax compulsory and has given all its cities two years in which to adopt this form of taxation," said J. E. Swinerton, who is in the hotel business at MacLeod, Alberta. "The little city of MacLeod has but 3000 inhabitants and yet it has fine streets, a good sewer system and owns its own water system and electric light plant, all made possible under the single tax system. All of the buildings that are being erected now are of brick and stone, since we have removed the tax on improvements. We came to the conclusion that it was folly to place a fine or penalty on people for improving their property and the results obtained in Alberta show that we are right. With all our municipal improvements our tax this year was only 7 mills on the dollar or 70 cents per $100."

ANOTHER LAND SWINDLE

The following land swindle is reported by the South Pasadena Record to have been operated recently in Southern California, and it behooves the unwary to look out for the perpetrators:

Residents of South Pasadena are cautioned to beware of a land swindle game that is being played on the uninformed throughout Southern California, and has been attempted to be played on some citizens of this city. Men will represent principally to women because they believed them uninformed on land transactions, that property will be given away in a certain locality, where land is being opened for sale for the purpose of advertising a new tract. But when the deed is about to be delivered the intended donee is informed that she must pay $12 or some other amount to pay for the execution of the deed and placing it on record. When the donee has accepted the deed and tries to locate the property, she finds that it is not on the map.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

Several new members, both temporary and permanent, have been admitted to the club since the first of the year. All committees report unusual activity. The "Ways and Means Committee" is being congratulated upon the attractiveness of its first party which was pronounced a success by the guests as well as by the club treasurer. The dinner and entertainment last evening and the plans for a colonial party Friday, February 21, attest to the activity of this new committee of which Mrs. G. Hallett Johnson is chairman.

The president, Mrs. Ingraham, and Mrs. Fairbanks, chairman of programs and art, announce an art exhibit for Reciprocity day. The program also includes several of the most brilliant woman speakers in Los Angeles. Acceptances to the Reciprocity Day invitations are coming in rapidly from all over the district. Delegates from as far north as Santa Paula have signified their intention of coming.

A delightful event is promised for next Friday evening when Mr. E. J. Webster will give a talk on foreign travel, illustrated with stereopticon slides from some of the thousands of pictures taken by him during his fifteen years of travel. No admission fee will be charged and a cordial invitation is extended to every one.

Members are reminded that the last lecture of the first half of the Hector Allot series will be given next Monday at ten-fifteen.
